1972-1973

Imagine a large circle and in the center of it rays of light that spread out to the circumference. The light in the center is God, each of us is a ray. The closer the rays are to the center, the closer the rays are to one another. The closer we live to God, the closer we are bound to our neighbor.

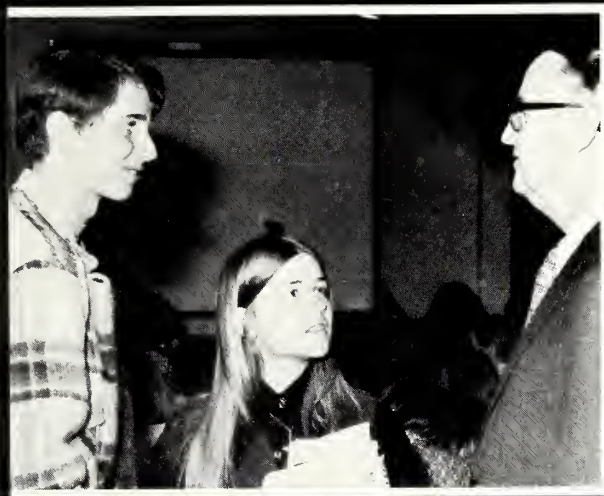
If you'll share
Your time with me
I'll give mine to you



Share with me
Your accumulated thoughts
Let them mix with mine

We can share our lives
In portions large or small
And - together - we can grow

Beginner — Perpetual Beginner

Beginning in a fear of ignorance
A world of opposites
and opposition
A longing of absolutes that never come
The temptations that never cease

Beginning to notice
The persistant coming of the sun
The sun! Living in light's extreme
I stretch in all directions and reach to others
I have become several

Beginning to learn
Of the constant love of God
In Christ! Living in His love
I grow in all directions and reach to others
I have become one

The Miracle of Love:
How it grips men's hearts,
Setting a life on fire
Burning with excitement,
And lifting up the soul with a new song.
Like a graceful, gently soaring bird,
The mystery of caring fills a vacuum
Drawing us up, up, beyond a
Star filled sky,
Lending a feeling of completeness of fulfillment of contentment.
And from within, a silent prayer ascends
To the Author of this emotion, Hoping,
praying,
That it will last throughout all enduring time.

One wonders at the life we're in
Tossed like a reed in a wind of fear;
We're born to die and we can't win
Always another cry we hear.
Slaves to time: it marches on,
The voice gets louder as we grow;
Slowly we hear the melancholy song
Then somehow we sense, we know.
It comes, that darkened cloud around us, bears,
Pausing briefly, we know it must;
From our grasp on life it tears --
And we remember we are but dust.
But with the eye of soul I faintly see,
A God somewhere who waits for me.

In almost endless corridors of time
That man has struggled through in all his plight,
I think of times when trials were sublime,
And courage raw was master of the fight;
Of other men that, stable did not stand,
Remaining true to nothing, nor to one.
The former in myself I see at times,
The latter much the more that I have done.
Almost as if to mock the human race
That One obedient and true till death
Did hearken all man's failure in His space
Upon the cross. Not mockery did His death
Impart, but by the power of himself
Has borne all burdens, all trials of myself.

SOCCER

Rockmont Rockets exhibited well-trained teamwork in playing an exciting season with an overall record of six wins, two losses, and two ties. The soccer team provided the school with unity and spirit through athletic competition. Not only did the team portray their athletic abilities, they also were a testimony of their fellowship in Jesus Christ.

CHEERLEADERS

Giving support to the Rockmont Rockets this year were an active group of cheerleaders. New uniforms added to a spirit of fresh excitement. The squad worked in co-ordinating cheers to lead the spectators in their support of the Rockets. The girls worked with the team in accomplishing their goal of unity both in competition and spirit throughout the tense game conflicts.

This year's cheerleaders were Sharla Schell (TOP), Carol Schaumberg (LEFT), Lindi Snider (CENTER), and Susan Blight (RIGHT).

In the fall of the year, new friends were in the making and old ones were strengthened. The scene: Glen Erie. The spectacular scenery surrounding the castle became the subject of many treasured memories as all that were present were brought together in fellowship with God.

Blessed Hope

From California came the week long ministry of a "Jesus rock" group, the Blessed Hope, Rockmont College and the Denver area shared in an inspiring time of fellowship and outreach. Music which was thought provoking along with warm expressive testimonies served to be a reflection of God's love and abundance.

Sponsored by Rockmont's student action group, the Blessed Hope ministered to local high schools and churches, ending in an open air concert on the capitol steps.

The week's impressions initiated new beginnings and further growth in the lives of many people.
